THE DAILY BULLETIN.

Only Morning Daily in Southern Illinois.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY AND COUNTY.

ABOUT TOWN.

—Holden, of Unity precinct, went home yesterday.

—The order of the Mystic Krew has been incorporated.

—The condition of Miss Edwards was unchanged at last accounts.

—Rain and mud and gloomy weather had their own way yesterday afternoon.

—Heywood, the energetic Horse Shoe Mills man, was in the city yesterday and day before.

—Work is progressing on the fill on Eighth street, between Washington avenue and Cedar street.

—Lately, the colored man who was stabbed by his brother, Friday night, is reported out of danger.

—Mr. Wm. M. Brown, the gentleman who presides over the destinies of Anna, was in the city yesterday.

—Mrs. E. H. Oswald, formerly of Cairo, now of Kansas City, is in town visiting her brother, Mr. John Robinson.

—In connection with the morning services at the M. E. Church to-day, the regular quarterly love-feast will be held.

—Being instigated, thereby by others, we ask, in all humbleness of spirit, what has become of our Dramatic association?

—The Craig murder case still continues to occupy the attention of the Circuit court. It is thought that Monday will finish it.

—A girl in the lower part of the city attempted suicide Friday night, by the use of morphine. She took too much, and was saved.

—By County Commissioner Sanders, of Clear Creek, was in the city yesterday. He says the crops will not be as good this year as they were last year.

—Mrs. John B. Phillips and daughter, Miss Jessie Phillips, who left this city for a visit to friends in Pittsburg, arrived safely at their destination Thursday.

—In consequence of the absence of the Rev. Mr. Dillon-Lee there will be no services at the Church of the Redeemer to-day. Sunday school at 9:30 a. m.

—Mr. and Mrs. Phil H. Saup are to be congratulated upon another appendix of the years to be a girl of standard weight and dimensions and approved lung power.

—On Friday next, the exercises at the high-school will be of the most interesting character—readings, declamations, music, regular graduating exercises and presentation of diplomas.

—Mr. Dillon-Lee has gone to Chicago and from there will go to Springfield to attend the Diocesan convention to meet there next Tuesday. The lay-delegates will follow him Monday.

—A quarter of a million in one year is a big showing for a dry-goods and variety store in Cairo. It shows what enterprise, intelligently directed, can do. The house does not spare printer's ink.

—Thrupp says the mosquitoes are numerous at the Cache river bridge, and dreadfully annoying. Cairo has not suffered much this season from the attacks of the little stinging and biting pests.

—The colored schools have been doing good work during the term now closing. Mr. Plan, principal, returns to his home at Oberlin, Ohio, and will carry with him the best wishes of his colored friends, and the respect of whites and blacks alike.

—The graduating exercises of the High School will take place Friday of this week, at 2 o'clock p. m., in the High School room. The class is composed of the following: Misses Effie Close, Etta McEwen, Cora Stratton, Maggie Loflin, Mollie Cavander and Kitty Alvord.

—The Cairo Box and Basket Company, now so skillfully managed by Capt. T. F. Field, the Superintendent, yesterday received twenty-two car loads of poplar blocks for fruit-box material, over the Chicago, St. Louis and New Orleans railroad. They were gathered near Arlington, Kentucky, and were brought up in charge of D. C. Payne.

—Examinations in the public schools have been progressing during the past week. They will be continued this week, and the schools closed on Friday next for the summer vacation. Our schools have been conducted ably, to the general satisfaction of all reasonable citizens, and our people will have reason to congratulate themselves if, in the future, the high standard of the present can be maintained.

—Ghosts are plentiful as gossamer threads in Autumn. The latest case is reported in the upper part of the city. The framework, back and cord of a picture fell to the floor, leaving the picture, like the coffin of Mahomet, suspended between earth and heaven. It occurred, so we are informed, in the presence of two young ladies. Our informant is not, it is proper to state, given to telling the truth, as a habit.

—During the summer vacation of the public school, Miss Rogers will visit her parents at Ballston, New York; Miss Thompson will return to her old home at Sycamore in this State; the Misses Pattison will visit St. Louis on their way home to Freeport; Miss Etter will go home to Springfield, and the teachers who reside here, will manage, as the rest of us will, to swelter in patience through the heated term. Prof. Alvord and family may seek comfort nearer the North pole, but they have not yet determined to do so.

—Mr. McCormick arrived yesterday from Carbondale, where, it seems, the citizen is permitted to violate the second commandment at his own free will, and in the most public places. It is therefore not to be wondered at that the gentleman was almost paralyzed with amazement when he found himself in the clutches of the law for indulging in what appeared to him to be only an innocent recreation. Justice Robinson assessed him $5 and costs, and being just at that moment in an impecunious way, he was consigned to the cooler. See Naples and then die. Come to Cairo and learn to be good—to yourself.

—To the ladies of Cairo, the impressions of Madame Charlton-Edholm, derived during the first days of a sojourn among us, which, we trust, may expand into lengthening years, will be read with interest, and the beautiful sentiments, so chastely and soberly expressed, find an echo wherever true womanhood is known and honored. While Cairo is proud to point to the public spirit, benevolence and intelligence of its women, the influence of the acquisition to their ranks of a lady so justly distinguished among the literati of the day, can not fail to impress itself with force not only upon the members of her own sex, but upon those of coarser clay.

—The Johnson County Journal says: "John Antrim, Jr., of Cairo, is now the recognized champion roller skater of Southern Illinois." Yes. Not only of Southern Illinois, but of the entire State, and were we offered slight odds we would venture to include all the States, and throw in Canada and Greenland for good measure and to secure a bet. Cairo takes no lack seat in skating, and even if Mr. Antrim should forego the honor of contesting the international championship, there are a couple of other young gentlemen who, if not as expert as he in intricate and difficult evolutions upon rollers, are at least his equals in the grace and sweetness of their motions—upon rollers.

—The following is a list of letters remaining unclaimed for at the post office, in the city of Cairo, on Saturday morning, May 25, 1878: Adams, Mary; Anderson, Sarah; Breeze, Sarah; Barnes, Della; Burns, Anna; Berry, Caroline; Clemmons, Ella; Carroll, Mary; Cook, Telda; Dickerson, A.; Edels, Barbara; Edwards, M.; Gunn, Annie; Harris, Susie; Herron, Anna; Johnson, Ella; Murphy, Josie; Morgan, Ada; McGuire, S. C.; Parsons, Fannie; Rose, F.; Rose, Hubbell; Smith, Bettie; Shepherd, Mrs.; Tillman, Biddie; Wilkins, Clara; Wiggins, M. J.; Wayne, Mrs. Allen; Archer, John; Amesworth, Leroy; Barton, C. C.; Brown, Geo.; Brown, John; Balcome, John; Buckley, J. D.; Burton, M. H.; Cook, A.; Clonen, Jas.; Clark, Tom; Dorans, John; Douglas, Sam; Evans, J. C.; Fisher, Wm. H.; Groves, F.; Gillham, W. H.; Hendrickson, D. W.; Hood, G. B.; Hall, R.; Holstin, Frank; Harper, Willie; Hammon, Rufus; Hubbell, T. B.; Kerr, J. B.; King, Winfield; Lycert, Chas.; Lust, Henry; Miller, Alfred; Merrill, C.; Martin, Church; Moens, Chas.; Montague, H. W.; Menns, H.; Milliken, J. T.; McGurvey, Jas.; McGrath, M.; Merrill, N. W.; Marshall, W. N. S.; Mitchell, T. T.; O'Connor, Thos.; Pyborn, S.; Rolleson, Rich.; Reynolds, E.; Robbins, Rule; Singleton, D.; Smith, Edward; Terry, Tip; Weaver, Bird; Walter, Geo.; Woodward, W. R.; Wood, W. W.; Ward, Wm.; Wyman, Col.

—We call attention to the proposed improvement of the railroad strip, suggested and diagrammed by Mr. Charles Thrupp, county surveyor, and published this morning on first page. We believe it to be the only practicable plan for the improvement of that strip that has yet been suggested. In brief it is as follows: The strip is 100 feet wide, running north and south, with a grade from the west side of the strip to the east side, on all the streets running across it. Mr. Thrupp proposes to set off 10 feet on the west side as an alley; next to this, 35 feet on which to lay railroad tracks; and the remainder of the strip, 55 feet, for a street. The streets running across the railroad strip now sloping from the Levee to Commercial avenue, he would reduce to a level with Commercial avenue from that avenue to the east side of the 35 feet of the strip on which he proposes to place the railroad tracks. He would then make a grade of 1 foot in 20 feet, on the cross streets, from the east side of the 35 feet of the strip above mentioned, to Ohio Levee. This plan would enable the railroads to come in on the grade or even a lower grade than Commercial avenue, and give a ten-foot roadway on one side and a 55-foot street on the other, necessarily filled above sipe water only, and of use from Fourteenth street to Second street, without expensive bridges. The plan is a good one—the only sensible one we have heard suggested for the improvement of the strip.

A REMARKABLE RESULT.—It makes no difference how many physicians or how much medicine you have tried, it is now an established fact that German Syrup is the only remedy which has given complete satisfaction in severe cases of lung diseases. It is true there are yet thousands of persons who are predisposed to throat and lung affections, consumption, hemorrhages, asthma, severe colds settled on the breast, pneumonia, whooping cough, etc., who have no personal knowledge of Bosche's German Syrup. To such we would say that 50,000 dozen were sold last year without one complaint. Consumptives, try just one bottle. Regular size, 75 cents. Sold by all druggists in America.

A STRANGER'S FIRST THOUGHTS OF THE DELTA CITY.

BY MADAME CHARLTON EDHOLM.

Nestling in the broad arms of the mighty rivers lies the pleasant city of Cairo. Into the sunny south, where the days are a lengthened calm of sunlight, where the fairest of skies smiles upon us as a reflection of God's own face, have we drifted. Joyous birds, from the depths of their happy hearts carol us the blithe song of welcome. May, robed in summer tints and crowned as a very queen with a coronet of garlands, bends down to us in regal beauty and fragrance. And so overblowing is her heart that it blossoms fresh in roses of crimson and gold and pink and white, flinging the rarest perfume out upon the air in lavish extravagance.

Enterprise and industry too have combined with nature, and amidst the waters and the sunlight and the flowers rise handsome residences, elegant houses and cozy cottages, proving by their beautiful though silent surroundings how dear is the home life to the hearts of the people. Nor are public interests forgotten, as the massive post office, court house and hospital, the churches, the public schools and the rows of solid business blocks indicate.

A stranger might notice and take pride in all these, but as one of you, and because our reception in Cairo was so warm and cordial, a deeper feeling of sincerest friendship stirs our hearts, and guides my pen in tracing these words. Through the kind invitation of a newly made friend, on the evening of our arrival, we attended the reception of Mrs. Baynton Harbert. Our delight can scarcely be expressed. For over two hours we listened, in rapt attention, to the words of thought and study and eloquence, as they fell from Mrs. Harbert's lips, and when the lecturer, descending from the rostrum, became the social lady in our midst, our delight knew no bounds. In her cordial way she bowed and clasped my hand and spoke her kindly words of welcome; then my soul went out in friendship to the woman's heart, which beat so warmly for the stranger.

She is as charming in manner as she is brilliant in intellect.

Introduction followed introduction in rapid succession and the murmured words of gladness linger as a beautiful memory upon my brain.

The auspices could not be happier, and let me render a grateful tribute to the Women's Club, of which Cairo has indeed reason to be proud. Women who bring their genius, their labor, their education, their talents and offer them to the public in an elegant, substantial and beautiful library, which shall elevate and refine and ennoble all within the circle of its influence. Our country needs hundreds of just such women.

Tender and generous however as the feeling has been to us, and inexpressible as we appreciate it, at times the silence in my home becoming oppressive, broken only by the notes and echoes refrain of the song I sing, waves of loneliness sweep over me, and my thoughts fly to the pleasant Northern city which sheltered me in tenderest friendships, leaving golden memories in my heart; to the radiant home-life where the love of dear ones crowned me with a halo, and with a swelling heart my song sob itself out in the word, mother, Cairo seems a strange desolate city and I, a lost child who, among the hundreds of human faces, vainly search for the tenderest one in all the world—my mother's. Oh! the miles are very long and dreary which stretch between Cairo and Omaha, but when I go forth I find hearts as warm, greetings as sincere and hand-claspings as fervent as the fondest could wish.

So today because of the hospitality which has greeted us on every side with a heart full of good will, I write my first impressions of the beautiful city of the South which has opened her arms to two more children and widened her boundaries for another home. As children, while claiming her love, we shall work for her interests and because it is our dwelling place, our home, the memories in other years shall be full of beauty and tenderness and the thoughts only those of grateful love.

QUERY.—Why will men smoke common tobacco when they can buy Marlboro Bros. "Soul of North Carolina" at the same price?
